

Chef's and third party Entertainers

One of the most commonly requested things people at West Acre do is organise a chef to come and cook for them, what a perfect way to give your celebration that extra special touch of luxury. We do not organise third party entertainers or chef's for our guests but we do provide you with our list of recommended suppliers.

The people we recommend are all local chef's we have either met or used ourselves and we have had great feedback from our guests. They all know the layout and the facilities equipment available at West Acre. They can provide almost anything you may want, whether it be fine dining or your favourite comfort foods, dinner, breakfast, barbeques, afternoon tea, whatever you want. You can choose between having your food cooked served or there are many options can be delivered or collected to heat up and serve.

We also supply you with a range of ideas with other local third party suppliers from flower arranging workshops to yoga or why not go Alpaca trekking.

We only have one rule and that is that you do not engage a chef or any other third party entertainer or supplier who is not on our list unless you agree them with us first. We will get in touch with your supplier to get all the information and necessary insurance documentation we need. If you do not follow this rule please be aware you will be liable for any damage that they may make.

What could be better than having a local chef come in and cook a fabulous meal for you and your group
